

A large, complex industrial platform, likely an offshore oil or gas structure, is being hoisted by a massive red lattice crane. The platform is suspended by numerous thick cables and is positioned above a large white ship with yellow accents. The scene is set against a clear blue sky. The platform itself is a multi-level structure with various pipes, walkways, and a large white container on one side. The crane's arm extends from the top right corner of the frame, with the number '2150' visible on its side. The ship below has several vertical structures and cranes on its deck, indicating a busy industrial or construction site.

Building a balanced portfolio of international exploration and production assets